

by to his activity in behalf of the military and navy review which is to be held in the vicinity of Jamestown, Va. His heart and soul have been in the work, and he labored zealously to make it a success.

Arrangements for the funeral, together with the selection of the place of interment of the remains, will not be made until after the arrival in Washington of Mrs. Lee, who is now on her way to Washington, from Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., whence the body will remain for burial and will remain at the hospital. It is possible that the body may be laid to rest at the National Cemetery at Arlington, although it is said that friends of Gen. Lee may make an effort to have a site chosen somewhere else in Virginia.

A widow and five children survive Gen. Lee. Two of the boys are army officers and two of the girls are wives of army officers, while the remaining child is a young woman, still in her teens. The children are Mrs. J. C. Brown, wife of Lieut. Brown, of the Seventh Cavalry, now in San Francisco; Mrs. Annie Brown, wife of Lieut. Brown of the Seventh Cavalry, now at San Francisco, and Miss Virginia Lee.

NEW YORK'S ADVICES.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.—NEW YORK, April 28.—Gen. Lee was stricken with apoplexy while the Federal Express on which he was a passenger was at Mott Haven, the terminal of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad on East River today. Two physicians were summoned, and Gen. Lee remained on board the train while it was transferred by boat to Jersey City and proceeded to Washington.

HIS LAST LABORS.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.—BOSTON, April 28.—Gen. Lee was in Boston yesterday to secure the interest of Massachusetts in the Jamestown exposition in 1907. He appeared before the legislative Committee on Federal Relation during the morning, and made a strong address in favor of having Massachusetts erect a State building at Jamestown. He left here last evening, apparently in his usual health.

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.—SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maj.-Gen. Fitzhugh Lee belonged to the distinguished Lee family of Virginia, and was a grandson of Gen. Henry Lee, "Light Horse Harry" of Revolutionary fame, and nephew of Robert E. Lee, the most famous general of the Confederate States. His father, Sydeny Smith Lee, served thirty years in the United States navy.

Fitzhugh Lee was born at Clermont, Va., November 18, 1855, and entered the military academy at West Point before he was seventeen years of age, being graduated in 1864. When the war broke out he "went with the Army" and was promoted to take service in the Confederacy.

"Then does he make the contracts with himself?" asked Chairman Elkins.

It was announced that Bird would appear before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce today. He said that at times the Missouri Pacific charged a less rate than fixed by the commission.

Replies to questions about private car lines, Lincoln explained that the Missouri Pacific Railroad, in which the Missouri Pacific was a stockholder, operated on that line, which had more than four thousand cars. The private car company made a charge of 10 per cent over C. B. Bird, who is an officer of the Missouri Pacific and also an officer of the refrigeration company, had charge of the private car company.

Replies to the Missouri Pacific.

It is certain that he cannot even if it were possible to eliminate all legislation to eliminate the activities which are the basis of commerce, trade and traffic and to substitute in their place the rigid control and regulation of a paternal government.

The Missouri Pacific, the Chinese method, and I trust never will be the American method. Men will always strive for their own advantages, and out this strife all commercial progress will be retarded.

"The Missouri Pacific can succeed without any governmental regulation or control would best serve the public I do not believe. And yet it does not follow that it should be submitted to the influence of a body of men who, in the nature of things, cannot grasp its needs and its requirements, and the needs and requirements of the public."

President Cleveland appointed him Commissioner at Mott Haven, and when President McKinley assumed office he retained Gen. Lee in consequence of his zealous and discreet service at that difficult post. At the end of his term he was promoted with an appointment as major-general in volunteer service. Gen. Fitzhugh Lee's services in Cuba in command of the 10th Cavalry were of the greatest value to his country.

SANAA BURRENDERS.

Capital City of Yemen Province Subsumed to Repeated Night Attacks of Arabian Revolutionists.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.—HODEIDA (Yemen Province, Arabia) Wednesday, April 26.—Sanaa, the capital city of Yemen province, capitulated to the insurgents during the night of April 26. The revolutionists are now proceeding to besiege the city of Sanaa, and have a garrison of 500 men, but the troops are mutinous. Jews who left Sanaa before the surrender and who have arrived at Hodeida say the town was subject to constant night attacks, the garrison was hard pressed and provisions were exhausted.

The field of the fight of March 29, southeast of Sanaa, where the Syrian rebels went to the relief of Sanaa and were crushingly defeated, was strewn with dead soldiers and animals.

HARRIMAN'S USE OF HYDE.

Wall Street's Reason for Gould's Resignation.

Latter a Strong Friend of Equitable's Official.

Senate Interstate Commerce Commission Hearing.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was reported in Wall Street today that the reason for the resignation of J. Gould from the directorate of the Union Pacific Railroad, constituted by E. H. Harriman, is due to the intimacy of Harriman with James Hazen Hyde. Gould is a strong personal friend of Hyde, and according to men in Wall street who are close to Equitable affairs, the former became indignant over the way the railroad was run by Gould and Hyde. This is supposed to be the culmination of a disagreement that has been in course for some years.

When Harriman got control of the Union Pacific and the allied lines, giving him a straight road to the Coast, he was a strong friend of Gould and Gould's system. The point of transfer was Pueblo, Colo., and that is where the trouble between Harriman and Gould began. Gould claimed Harriman was holding up and delaying his lines and that much time was lost at Pueblo Junction. Until the Harriman regime was installed, no friction of any kind existed between Gould and Gould's railroads. This period Gould, who has been for many years trying to get right of way to the Coast, is now giving his undivided attention to the West and Pacific, and if his plans are worked out satisfactorily, he will have a road of his own from one coast to the other.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

HEARING AT WASHINGTON.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.—

WASHINGTON, April 28.—James C. Lincoln, general freight agent of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, continued his statement before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce today. He said that at times the Missouri Pacific charged a less rate than fixed by the commission.

Replying to questions about private car lines, Lincoln explained that the Missouri Pacific Railroad, in which the Missouri Pacific was a stockholder, operated on that line, which had more than four thousand cars. ## GOVERNMENT TAKES A HAND.

Federal Injunction Against the Chicago Strikers.

Bullets Scattered in Streets of Riot-infested City.

Great "Victory" Over the Brooklyn Eagle Exposed.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

CHICAGO, April 28.—When Cornelius P. Shea, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, learned of the action of the Secretary of War in ordering that troops be sent here, if necessary, to protect government property, he consulted with other leaders in the strike, and afterward sent the following telegram to the commandant at Fort Sheridan and to Secretary Taft:

"The International Brotherhood of Teamsters will furnish union drivers, with or without compensation, for all the work that may be necessary. They will obey any orders issued by any contractor for the United States government."

"BOOKLYN EAGLE" STRIKE UNION'S "VICTORY" EXPOSED.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, April 28.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Typographical Union No. 6, which covers the territory in which the Brooklyn Eagle is printed, is claiming a great victory in having unmasked the Eagle office. Here are the facts:

For two months past the Eagle has been printing union news. This has been done by contractors. Their names and mailing address. This has been done, but except for the men who went out because the Eagle refused to retain incompetents, no one is aware of the strike is on. Stern police protection to independent contractors and a series of turbulent newspaper stories has altogether negatived the strike. As a matter of fact, this strike was never recognized by either typographical union.

The order commands that all defendants refrain from any interference with the business of the Employers' Teamsters Association, and commands the strikers to remain quiet, and mind up the streets with intent to interfere with the wagons of the complainant, and from interfering in any manner with non-union men in its employ. As soon as issued, copies of the injunction were printed on large cards, and two of these were attached to every wagon of the Employers' Teamsters Association, which went upon the streets today.

The injunction exerted a powerful influence and there was less rioting in the streets than on previous heavy traffic days, which continued during the latter part of the afternoon and through the evening, also lent material assistance in keeping the streets clear. Twelve arrests were made for interference with the injunction, all of them being made at one time and place.

At 1:30 p.m. 22 wagons loaded with coal approached the Union League Club, on Jackson boulevard, and when they attempted to drive into the hardware store east of the club, were met by a crowd of strike sympathizers, and a lively fight ensued. The wagons were plainly marked with copies of the injunction, and the police in charge arrested twelve strikers who are now confined in the Harrison Street police station. They may be released on bail, but will be held in Circuit Court tomorrow morning.

One hundred and five copies of the injunction were given to United States Marshall Ames for service upon the labor leaders. No violation of the police rules under any circumstances. Competent drivers cannot be procured to handle the teams in Chicago, and violence will not help us in this strike, it is your union and your strike.

SHEA'S NOTICE.

When news of the injunction reached President Shea of the teamsters' union, he issued the following order, signed by the committee of teamsters' business agents: "To all union teamsters: No violation of the police rules under any circumstances. Competent drivers cannot be procured to handle the teams in Chicago, and violence will not help us in this strike, it is your union and your strike."

BELMONT RAISES WAGES.

SUBWAY AND "L" MEN HAPPY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, April 28.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Wages of gatemen and guards employed in the Subway and on the "L" lines of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company were increased today and the following order was issued: "After May 1, 1905, the rate of pay for all first-year gatemen will be increased 20 per cent. All first-year gatemen on the Interborough and all advanced 20 per cent. Men employed as, or promoted to, guard after May 1, 1905, will receive regular first-year guard's rate."

"FRANK HEDLEY," General Manager.

The following statement was issued by the company: "Prior to the strike the Interborough company was prepared to grant increases up to 20 per cent to all employees, but the labor trouble prevented this plan from being carried out. Now, that this force of 1,000 men is back to work, the company is thoroughly reorganized and the train service is being increased. President August Belmont and Vice-President Bryan considered it an opportune time to raise wages."

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—Three days' hard fasting preceding Easter, accompanied by solemn services, commemorated the Christian passion, began today. Business of every character was suspended and all the government departments were closed. The alarming reports circulated during the last few days, apparently had little effect on the size of the crowds which thronged the churches where the tragedy of Calvary was vividly enacted. Easter was also marked by the observance of the traditional ceremonies of freeing birds, lighting bonfires and placing holy bread in the fire to make a sacrifice upon the superstitious in the midst of the gloomy forebodings of evil, being an augury of drought and crop failure, which in Russia is synonymous with famine and disaster.

The Diplomatic Corps, including Ambassador Meyer, attended services at St. Isaac's Cathedral. Every member of the orthodox church and community, the Greeks and the Imperial family attending service and taking the sacrament at the chapel of the Alexandra Palace at Tarskoe-Selo.

E. J. Yard, chief engineer of the Denver and Rio Grande construction engineers for the Gould interests has arrived in Salt Lake from Denver and is superintending the preliminary activities.

YATES MERGER BILL.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) DENVER, April 28.—Gov. Jesus McDonald today vetoed the railroad merger or expansion bill passed at the late session of the Legislature, the purpose of which as represented was to enable the Colorado Southern & Railway Company to extend its lines to the Gulf of Mexico and in other directions.

PADEREWESKI CANCELS DATES.

NIAGARA FALLS (N. Y.) April 28.—Padreweski, the pianist, has cancelled his engagement in this city. He left this afternoon for Boston. In London, Ont., last night, he strained a cord in his neck while rendering a difficult composition. Today his condition was such that Dr. Francis Pruzak of Buffalo was called. Upon the physician's advice, Padreweski has cancelled all the remaining engagements of his tour in this country. Dr. Pruzak's diagnosis of Padreweski's ailment was that he is suffering from a severe attack of neuritis.

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES.

Orders were issued last night to start the sixteen east-bound Santa Fe passenger trains held at Las Vegas, Albuquerque and Raton because of floods.

STEADY PROGRESS has been reported by the Employers' Teamsters Association in securing men to take the places of the strikers and it is predicted by the employers before many days they will have their business back to a normal basis.

Two men were shot and a woman wounded, tonight at Charles King's a non-union driver for the Pacific Coast press Company. King was on a Blue Island Avenue car, when a crowd of strikers who had followed him boarded the car and attacked him. King drew a revolver and shot one of the men who attacked him, but instead the bullet struck two men who were standing near, wounding the right Joseph Ziegler, one of the strikers, and the left bullet in the left thigh, the same being shattered. His leg will have to be amputated. Patrick Enright was shot in the left arm and his injuries are not fatal. King was severely wounded the police after a fight in which he attempted to shoot the officers.

TAFT CALLED UPON.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) WASHINGTON, April 28.—Secretary Taft today received application from the Acting Secretary of the Treasury for the transportation of treasury coins and bullion between the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad station in that city, reported interrupted by the teamsters' strike. The Secretary accordingly instructed Col. Duggan, who is temporarily in command of the Department of the Lakes, to furnish the necessary teams and military guard, upon application, and the arrangement is explained that this action was nothing to do with the strike, but was necessary to prevent an interruption of the functions of government.

Holds that State Has Failed to Make Out Case Against Man and the Smiths, as Speedy Conclusion of Third Trial Is Now in Sight. Features of Friday's Testimony.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.—
NEW YORK, April 19.—After a day of interesting developments both in the prosecution and the defense rested in the case of Nan Patterson, indicted for the alleged murder of "Caesar" Young. The prosecution finished its case just before the adjournment of court and later Attorney O'Reilly, of counsel for Miss Patterson, notified the prosecution that his side would submit no defense and would rest on the contention that the State had failed to make any case against the defendant. The plan has been under consideration for some days, but was not upon the conference table between the counsel for Nan Patterson and her aged father. The decision means the speedy conclusion of the woman's third trial. When the case is called Monday, to which date the trial was adjourned, the trial, Dist. Atty. Rausch, will immediately begin the summing up of the case of the State.

Besides this, the succession of events which marked today's proceedings included the court's denial of a motion to dismiss the indictment on the testimony of the accused's sister, Miss J. Morgan Smith, in which she made some interesting statements, but stood on her right to refuse to answer questions on the ground that the answers would incriminate her. Rausch promised to quash the suspensive indictment against Mrs. Smith if she would answer his questions, and the project of the counsel for the defense to the court that Rausch's method of questioning was "unfair" was thrown overboard, and the rejection again by the court of the much-quoted letter of Mrs. Smith to Young, expressing fears as to the consequences if Young did not see her.

GAYNOR AND GREEN CASES.
DEFENSE BEGINS AT MONTREAL.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.—
MONTREAL, April 28.—Mowers, Gaynor and Green have been put upon their defense. Magistrate La Fontaine, the trial court, concluded, announced today that he considered a prima facie case of conspiracy had been made between Gaynor and Green and Capt. Carter and others for the purpose of defrauding the United States government. He therefore directed that he was prepared to hear their defense.

Taschereau, on behalf of the defense, asked for a delay, as he had already made an application to the Court of Appeals in New York, which was denied for an appeal of the decision of Justice Davidson, who refused a writ of prohibition in the case. The reason he gave for the delay was that, if the Court of Appeals would not accept the case, it would be taken from the jurisdiction of Extradition Commissioner La Fontaine. After considerable argument, it was decided to allow an adjournment until next Friday.

FOR OLD MURDER.

TWO ARRESTS UP NORTH.
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.—
PORTLAND (Ore.), April 28.—A special to the Oregonian from Grant's Pass, Ore., states that Boley Dodson has been arrested for the murder of an old man at Crescent City, California, for the murder in 1903 of William Dunlap, an aged miner who lived on Louse Creek, six miles from Grant's Pass.

The information which led to the issuing of the warrants was given by Lloyd Ingram, a son of Andrew Ingram. Young Ingram's story is that Dunlap was snatched by his father and Dodson for the purpose of robbing the old man. Ingram says that he was present when the murder was committed and was compelled by his father to help search the house. He says that he does not know how much Dodson and his father knew but that his son was found in the house.

Young Ingram, who is 17 years old, stated that his reason for telling is that he is in fear of his father. He came here from the neighborhood of Crescent City, where he has been at work to give the information. Dodson is a man of good reputation.

TWO MORE CASES
OF SUICIDE.CARBOLIC ACID AND STRYCHNINE
SNUFF OUT LIVES.

Dependent Tailor Takes a Dose of Burning Fluid and Dies White Boy Watches—Man Whose Past is Unknown Found Dead in Cheap Lodging-house.

It was suicides' day again yesterday in this city, two men ending life's struggles by violent means. To be more exact, there was only one case yesterday, for while the other body was found yesterday afternoon, it is presumed to have been committed Thursday night. The two dead are Ed Lasee, who was found in an East First-street lodging-house, and H. Newfeld, a tailor, who drank carbolic acid on a vacant lot in the rear of No. 730 West Fourth street.

The first case discovered was that of Newfeld. About 10 o'clock yesterday morning Martin Ackerson, a young boy living at No. 329 South Flower street, was climbing up the hill that slopes at Fourth and Flower streets, when he noticed a man writhing on the ground as if in great pain. He ran at once to a grocery store and from there word was telephoned to the Police-Station: but when the officers arrived the man was dead. His face was red, his mouth was badly burned by carbolic acid and there was a strong odor of that poison on the body. He was about 35 years of age.

Newfeld was a tailor and leaves a wife and two children. He took his life because of a heavy overcharge. His name is Ed Lasee and Mrs. William Hamilton states that although he has been at her home at different times during the past year she did not know his business. He was and the husband never asked him. He is a son-in-law of H. Cohen, who resides at No. 1438 Polson street. The body was taken to Bresen Bros' undertaking rooms and an inquest will be held tomorrow.

The other man was found late yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Margaret Williamson, landlady of the lodging-house at No. 730 West Fourth street. His name is Ed Lasee and Mrs. Williamson states that although he has been at her home at different times during the past year she did not know his business. He was and the husband never asked him. He is a son-in-law of H. Cohen, who resides at No. 1438 Polson street. The body was taken to Bresen Bros' undertaking rooms and an inquest will be held tomorrow.

Santa Fe's Troubles.

Only one of the numerous Santa Fe trains from the East, delayed by washouts in Colorado and New Mexico reached Los Angeles yesterday. Other trains are still held east of Albuquerque by breaks in the line. The Ninth Regiment, United States Infantry, westbound on special train, was diverted at Denver to the San Joaquin to permit to catch a boat at San Francisco. This diversion is taken to indicate that the Santa Fe tie-up is serious. A report last night that the San Joaquin in the Raton tunnel could not be verified at the local offices of the company. To Save San Pedro Street.

At a meeting of the San Pedro Street Improvement Association yesterday evening in the Atlas Mills, a petition to the presenters of the City Council was affixed, asking for the paving of San Pedro street from Fifth to Jefferson. The proposition to change the name of San Pedro street was defeated.

Shot at Young.

H. B. Young, a reporter on an afternoon newspaper, was the victim of a mysterious shooting last night. A man, as to whose identity the police are not certain, although they think the killer was a Negro, passed Young on the street and when a few feet from him, turned and fired a shot at him, trying to hit him in the back. Before Young could return the fire, his assailant fled. According to Young's statement, he was at the Post Station, he had been on Kohl street, making a call. He was returning homeward on Gladys avenue. When between Eighth and Ninth streets he passed a man, but paid no attention to him. A moment later there was a shot and a bullet whistled past him. As he turned the shooter ran down the street and quickly disappeared.

printing of all real estate matter, including advertisements, in a part by itself on Sundays involves somewhat slower press work, making it essential, in order to get the paper out on time, to have receiving room, estate office, and o'clock Saturday nights. Dealers will confer a favor on the Times office if they will turn in Sunday copy on Friday, and the publisher will leave a short time. Sunday "Want" ads will still be received by phone and over the counter until 11 o'clock Saturday nights.

Both "phones available. Take elevator in business office. All are welcome.

The Starr Piano: The Emerson

Two Always-Reliable Pianos

No superficial methods of construction are tolerated in any part of the Starr Piano; each instrument has a rarely beautiful tonal capacity, an elastic and responsive touch, and a lasting durability of the whole which has created and maintained an enviable reputation for the Starr among artists and critics.

The Emerson Piano has what might almost be called individuality, in its direct appeal to the musical and aesthetic tastes, and it represents the maximum of reliability among medium-priced pianos.

There are cheaper pianos made than either the Starr or the Emerson, but for true, honest worth, they are hard to excel.

"NOT GUILTY" SAYS JURY, AND TOM HAYS GOES FREE.

Public Astounded by Verdict in Riverside Bank Case—Nine Jurors For Acquittal from the Very Start. Scene in Court.

THEY have acquitted Tom Hays, and now public honor and private honesty must rally from the shock and shoulder the verdict and get out of the woods as best they can.

For full two minutes after those startling words "Not guilty," had fallen from the foreman's lips, Federal Judge Wellborn conceded to be as fair and impartial a Judge as ever presided in that jurisdiction, sat in his high-backed chair, as one drowsy. A loud hubbub of congratulations of the defendant filled the courtroom. But the Judge, noted for his strict enforcement of court order, paid no heed. In his big chair he sat, perfectly still, his head bowed, the lips of his deep-lined face pressed hard together, his eyes cast down.

Then, rousing himself suddenly as from reverie, "Mr. Balliff, let us have our order," he said.

William Dominguez rapped sharply, "Order! Let there be order in the courtroom!" he cried. Instantly the hubbub ceased, hysterical hands stopped their fondling of the freed prisoners, and in groups came speeding along the corridors. In a trice a fair-sized audience was gathered.

It was 5:30 o'clock when the jurors filed into the presence of the court and, for the last time in this long-fought, hard-fought and celebrated case, took their seats in the box:

Julius H. Veirich,
C. W. Mills,
Albert L. Rhynman,
Martin G. Neuner, foreman
George E. Talbert,
G. S. Shimmin,
Wesley B. Scott,
John McArthur,
John H. Schumacher,
W. H. Neuner and John H. Skinner.

"Gentlemen of the jury," asked Clerk Owen, his voice sounding loud and harsh in the absolute stillness, "have you agreed upon a verdict?"

"We have."

"What say you, is the defendant guilty, or not guilty?"

THE VERDICT.

Foreman Neuner rose. Slowly he unfolded the long, thin, white document in his hand.

landed on the freed prisoner's back, shooting an open hand and rigid forearm over Hays's shoulder, he wagged foolishly for a "shake," and fell to babbling off-color congratulations.

Somebody grabbed the silly ass and shoved him back into his seat. Half a dozen friends of the ex-indicted bank cashier started for the counsel table with outstretched hands and beaming faces, but the bailiff, who had been standing behind the judge, then Judge Wellborn raised his head, roused himself and commanded the bailiff to restore order.

"SO SAY WE ALL."

"We shall ask, your honor," said Attorney Meserve, "that the jury be polled."

"Yes," answered Judge Wellborn, "yes; let the jury be polled." The clerk called the jurors by name, one by one, and asked, "What say you?" "Not guilty," was the answer from his companion. "One! Two! Three!" and thus on to "Twelve!"

"This is your verdict?" So say you, one, so say you all?" queried the clerk, in the quaint, high-pitched tones of the court, as he led the twelve of them to the jury box, and above the low chorus of assent the louder voice of Foreman Neuner, his eyes on the face of Attorney Meserve: "It is!"

That ended it. Tom Hays charged out, walking the Orange Growers' Bank of Riverside, accused of plundering its depositors of approximately $100,000; Tom Hays, indicted by a Federal grand jury on two counts of embezzlement, prosecuted by the government with a mass of evidence from suggest that if the jurors might have a little more time it was quite likely an agreement would be reached.

So have the comfortable, bedless rounds they filed, and the all-night session of contention and counter-contention, argument and cross-argument, was taken up, with every hour or two a ballot to break the monotony and clear the decks for another tussle.

CHAFFIN YIELDS.

The deadlock—threes for conviction, nine for acquittal—was broken under the o'clock Friday morning.

Then Simon Chaffin, the juror who one day during the latter half of the trial had been taken ill, thereby bringing the proceedings to a temporary standstill, gave up. His was the last voice, he said, to stand the strain much longer, and there seems little doubt that that was true.

Neuner now had nine jurors with him—could he win over the other two?

An hour or even more the free work in the morning to 5:30 in the afternoon failed to show any change in the fighting fronts. Shimmin and McArthur, holding like bulldogs to the torn skirts of truth as they saw it, would, it was thought, never budge. Wellborn, however, was determined to bring them to reason.

"We have," he said, "a case of the most serious character, and we are bound to bring it to a conclusion. We have a man who is accused of having been walking the floor of his chambers; and it would be interesting to know what he did."

"We have," he said, "a case of the most serious character, and we are bound to bring it to a conclusion. We have a man who is accused of having been walking the floor of his chambers; and it would be interesting to know what he did."

CRAK VISITS

ACTING MAYOR.

CRAZY PAIANO ALONE WITH CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

Fancies He Owned Half Sonoratown and Seeks Official Aid to Oust Usurpers—Summerland "Isn't Frightened," but Regrets McAleer Hadn't Left that Revolver.

Acting Mayor Summerland yesterday afternoon espied the sword of Damocles that hangs above the Chief Executive's chair.

It was a wild-eyed paiano, yearning as an enraged gorilla, yearning to slice into ribbons the hide of the "gringos" whom he imagined had stolen his deade to valuable property near the old Plaza Church in Sonoratown.

For a few minutes it looked as though Summerland's administration, which had hitherto been all sunshine and flowers, would have a sudden and tragic termination.

While 200 persons in other parts of the municipal building were preparing for closing-up time, so near that their voices echoed through the office, yet far away to be of immediate assistance, the Acting Mayor listened to the ravings of the cunning lunatic, until by sheer mastery of will he soothed and controlled the wandering intellect of the paiano. Then, the latter, mollified and convinced that the "gringos" would give the papers up just as soon as he got back to Sonoratown.

Summerland was unarmed during the encounter. The Mexican thrust one hand rearward into the bosom of his shirt, though dimly he saw the handle of his knife. At other times he twirled a chair about in his excitement as though it were a rata, all the while pouring forth the fancies of his fancier.

Shortly before 5 o'clock in the afternoon a Mexican walked quietly into the Mayor's outside office and asked the Mayor's Secretary McKeag for the City Executive.

Seeing the man hesitating in the anteroom Summerland called out for him to step inside. As the Mexican entered the inner chamber McKeag went down to the City Clerk's office to file some official documents. Summerland was alone with his visitor.

"Before he had spoken a dozen words I knew what was up against him," said Summerland later in relating his experience.

"He started off by saying that he bought some property in Sonoratown near the Plaza Church in 1871. I could see from his appearance that he was not more than thirty years old at the outside.

"I looked out for McKeag, but he was not there.

"The fellow was dressed in a dark suit, good material, but considerably the worse for wear. He wore a slouch hat, and his shoes were coated with dust as though he had walked a long way.

"While I was making this mental survey of my visitor he was rattling away about his property, which he said comprised the Plaza in Sonoratown.

"He related how he had gone to Panama several years ago and had worked there until he owned two hundred miles of land; not acres, mind you, mind you, the time he was working more excited.

"As he told how he had returned and found that some 'gringos' had stolen his papers and would not let him have his back, he approached me, he clasped at his shirt bosom and twirled a chair about as though he was ready to throw it at them.

"I asked him his name, saying I would look up his papers.

"He clasped his head with both hands and said that he couldn't think of it, that his head was kind of muddled since the gringos had treated him the way he was.

"I was doing some hard looking through the door for someone to come. It seemed as though McKeag had been gone an hour.

"I was away in Mexican and broken English, my visitor vowed vengeance on the fellows who had taken his papers.

"Then he broke in. I assured him that there was no occasion for excitement, that the property was all right and that the city would look out for it.

"Cunning and suspicion shone in the black eyes that he turned on me while I was doing my best to calm him down.

"My right hand rested on the drawer where the Mayors have always kept a loaded revolver, generally two of them.

"I would have given a good deal just for the assurance that there was a revolver in there. Not that I wanted to use it. But it would have been a great bracer to my nerves.

"My right hand was resting again, in his odd mixture of Mexican and English, but in a mollified tone. It seemed to me that McKeag had been gone a week.

"I told him to hasten back to his friends so that he could get his attorney to take charge of the papers he had.

"Then he suddenly became very gruff and said that he was in both his head, thanked me extravagantly in his broken dialect and hurried out of the room.

"He had not regarded the fellow dangerous while talking to him; but when he was gone I found I was sweating as though I had been through a Turkish bath.

"The police were promptly notified, and all the officers on the night watch were instructed to be on the lookout for the Acting Mayor's loosed caller.

Former Mayor Snyder had two experiences with cranks, who succeeded in getting past his secretary. In the past a number of woody individuals have been taken from the Mayor's outside office by the police.

Court Here Legally Cuts Knot Tied in Canada, After Wife Has Lived Ten Years Apart from Husband, for Whom She Refused to Wedde Money from Mother.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

PIGGY APPEALED. James C. Smith was convicted some time ago of having run a "blind pig" at Covina, but the local constable failed to observe the due requirements of law in serving the summons, and the wife was granted a new trial before Judge Smith in the Superior Court. There is no dispute about the facts in the first instance, and the same kind of testimony is now being put in. It took the larger part of the morning yesterday, however, before the jury, and counsel were more exacting than if a man's life had been at stake. The case will be concluded today.

Mrs. O'Reilly was a Miss Petrie, and at the time of her marriage had considerable money of her own. This was not entirely satisfactory to the husband, for at the time of marriage he took the coin fly. They were living at Ottawa, the Canadian capital, where life is gay, and O'Reilly loved to participate. Lack of cash was a bar to his further enjoyment, and he had a heart-to-heart talk with his wife. He told her that he must have $5000 to live on, and the couple agreed that he could do with and he instructed her to wheel it out of her mother.

INJURED HIS SPINE. Eugene Bolling, a teamster, was indicted yesterday against the Los Angeles Railroad Company to recover $12,975 as damages and for money expended for medical services. The plaintiff's knee was broken by a car belonging to the defendant company at the intersection of Avenue 54 and Pasadena avenue, and suffered such injuries to his back and spine that he has been crippled ever since.

IMPROVE UNIVERSITY. Judge Gibbs yesterday granted the University of Southern California leave to appropriate property for the purpose of paying off debts and making needed improvements in certain of the buildings. The amount of mortgage is $45,000, and the interest is not to be greater than 9 per cent.

THE FUNK DIVORCE. Hattie E. Funk was granted a divorce from E. M. Funk by Judge York yesterday, on the ground of failure to provide. The parties married in the city in January, 1888, and there are two children. The husband began to drink heavily, and though he made a good salary, he failed to supply his wife and family with the necessities of life.

THE BUTLER DIVORCE. The divorce suit of Hazel Butler against W. H. Butler was completed before Judge Bordwell yesterday. The further testimony showed that the father had brutally ill-used the child, and when the police were about to be called, poured a vial of oil over the boy's head. In the examination yesterday the course of the defense as foreseen in questions asked Mrs. Jenkins, that Mrs. Martin, while employed by Mrs. Jenkins' mother, Mrs. W. E. Sands, was the reputed mother of Mrs. W. E. Sands, who died November, and that after the death of Mrs. W. E. Sands, she was the sole world companion for Mrs. Clara Jenkins. Mrs. Sands' daughter, up to the end of January last, was the Martin girl, and had been a storekeeper in the city, and had been married to a man named Martin, with whom she was living, and from whom she was separated.

THE VAN VLECK DIVORCE. Ella Van Vleck was granted a decree by Judge Monroe yesterday divorcing her from R. Van Vleck on the ground of drunkenness and failure to provide. The Van Vleck home was given to the husband, and the wife was given the house in which she was living, and the neighbors whose attention had been attracted by the shrieking. The decree was granted to the wife.

DIVORCE DENIED.

MRS. SEELEY FALLS SHORT.

For the last time Mrs. Mamie Seeley has been very much in evidence owing to the actions of her husband, who chased her about and would give her no peace. Twice he went to a store to buy a gun, and twice he was stopped by police officers who were investigating the true husband he expected. All the statements of Mrs. Seeley were without corroboration, save in the one instance, when he swore at her as she was about to leave the room, and he turned to the neighbors who had been attracted by the shrieking. The decree was granted to the wife.

It must be remembered also that the twelve men who acquitted Tom Hays were his peers!

Joe Jefferson, it appears, died rich in this world's goods as well as its honors. He deserved both.

Twenty boarders in Allentown, Pa., were chloroformed last week. The Oster is expanding.

The law, itself, does not discriminate between men, but that does not prevent the jury from doing so.

The strike on the isthmus among the Jamaicans was soon enough ended. It didn't seem to have any ginger in it.

Evenly that certificate of character given to Tom Hays by the board of directors was taken to mean what it said.

If the saloons are to be closed without also closing the drug stores, the sooner some of us begin to practice on up wins the better.

The more time the ordinary man is compelled to spend hunting for liquor to drink, the more time he is likely to spend drinking it when he finds it.

The President will not be able to finish his hunting trip, after all, but will soon hurry back to Washington. Probably the lid is sitting on Taft.

While the sunmers in Los Angeles are usually dry, anyhow, still, if Brother Chapman has his way, this coming will be more so than ever.

There is talk of a smelter being built in Los Angeles. Let 'em smoke up, and, if we can't get enough ore to keep the thing going we can use it for a garbage crematory.

Mr. Carnegie is getting along fairly well in his efforts to die poor, but he doesn't stand half the chance that some men do to die that way who are struggling right along to die rich.

It is not known just what "Lucky" Baldwin's sentimental sentiments on the question are, but it is quite certain he would regard things as going his way, in case Los Angeles should quit keeping saloon.

The abounding tax collector of San Francisco seems to have had too many women friends around him. They were not connected with the tax collector's office, however, they merely acted as assessors.

Charlie Schwab says these cables from London about being a dead one in all hogwash. And when it comes to telling the truth, we'll back Charlie against a London cable every day in the week.

The news reports that come to us by way of the London are strangely silent on the subject of this big, new navy that Charlie is going to build for Russia. It has evidently taken John Bull's breath away.

Every warm, sunny spring morning somebody in the East succeeds in securing an indictment against the beef trust, but round steaks and wiener-wurst continue to occupy the refrigerators at the same old price, or even more so.

Wellington prayed for "Night or Blucher" in the field of Waterloo. And now in the China Sea, Rotenstevsky is probably praying for Nebagato or a hurricane to strike old Togo somewhere between the port holes and the lighting-rod.

The prosecution is to make a big effort to prove that Caesar Young spent $5,000 on Nan Patterson. But, what of it? That does not say he killed the wife. It is no crime for man to spend money on a woman, although, in most cases, he is merely spending it for grief.

Japan is quick to protest when territorial rights are infringed upon, yet when it suited her to violate the territorial rights of Korea, she did so without making the slightest excuse. The Jap is a foxy little brownie, and he'll bear close watching.

When "Mr." Bigelow of that defunct Milwaukee bank reads the news from Los Angeles, this morning, he should perk up and face the music with a smile. The hope of a free government as well as of bank rappers lies in the jury system.

Evidently another epidemic of suicide has struck Los Angeles, and it makes the heart aches to dwell upon it. Poor, weary ones that lie down so unhappily with death, no longer able to bear the burden of life or to withstand its stress! And it seems so hard that, out of all the joy of the world, they could not have had at least enough to soften the cruelty and despair that overwhelmed them. May God deal gently with them in His merci rupt or an insane thing; but no reflecting man can regard the acquittal of Tom Hays without foreboding. Has it come to the pass that the thief who takes thousands shall go free, while the poor fellow who steals a bicycle shall serve in the penitentiary? No, The Times does not believe it. The Times believes that Hays will be punished yet—and that the wave of public indignation and resentment caused by this shameful verdict of yesterday will have a tremendous effect upon jurors in future cases when rich or powerful offenders are brought to trial.

There should be a rigid inquiry into the influences brought to bear on the jury in the Hays case outside of the courtroom, if any there were. Jurors, as well as others, are amenable to the law, and the United States officers will have not done their full duty till they have made a searching investigation along this line. The case of the Federal government was ably presented by the United States attorneys. The facts were clearly brought out. What caused the jury to ignore them? Let this be ascertained if possible.

The telegraph wires are laden with tales of defalcations and embezzlements. Nearly every large financial center is cursed with these breaches of trust. One hardly knows on whom to rely. Every day brings some amazing disclosure of financial faithlessness. Temptation to go wrong was never so great as in this era of enormous accumulations of wealth, and never did weak human nature stand in such need of the support of the strong arm of the law. What a pity that there should come such a verdict as this to debilitate the law's arm and to stimulate the belief that if a robber steals enough he is safe. Such a verdict is a calamity for every tempted man, as well as for every citizen who has saved a dollar and put it in a bank.

But the end is not yet. There is a God in the end. Woe be unto Tom Hays and the likes of him!

THE OPEN SHOP IN CHICAGO.

Some time ago the teamsters employed by Montgomery Ward & Co., a Chicago firm, struck because the firm was having trouble with its garment workers, who were out on a strike. There was rioting and violence, as usual. Numerous non-unionists were pugilists and pugnacious, as a master of course. But Montgomery Ward & Co. managed to keep their business moving, notwithstanding the mob violence of strikers, strike sympathizers, and the half-hearted efforts of the police. At length the strikers, seeing they were practically beaten, called off the strike and asked to be reinstated in the old positions.

But Montgomery Ward & Co. had had enough of the union teamsters, who struck without the slightest provocation, and their request for reinstatement was refused. Now a general boycott has been declared by the teamsters' union, not only against Montgomery Ward & Co., but against a large number of the leading mercantile firms in Chicago, and the teamsters are seeking to prevent the receipt and shipment of goods by these boycotted firms. The teamsters threaten to call to their assistance the freight handlers and other railroad employees, in Chicago and perhaps in other cities. The prospects indicate a bitter and more or less prolonged contest.

There are hundreds and thousands of reasonable, justice-loving and temperate men, though they are not prohibitionists in the general acceptance of the term, who will resent, and properly, an attitude of stubbornness and defiance, if such an attitude be taken by the liquor men against high license. These men, if the liquor dealers assume an unreasonable attitude, will become out-and-out advocates of complete prohibition.

THE VERDICT IN THE HAYS CASE.

In view of the flagrant circumstances of the case and the weakness of the defense, the verdict of "not guilty" ending the trial of Tom Hays, the Riverside bank wrecker, is one of the most astonishing ever rendered in this State.

Hays has not entirely escaped the clutches of the law, as there are other causes of action against him; but his acquittal by jury in the Federal Court is a blow at the moral sense of the community and a menace to the public solvency. What shall be taught the rising generation if unconvicted rogues like Tom Hays are to escape punishment? What safeguards have our financial institutions if faithless cashiers are to handle other people's money as they choose and make no accounting for their misdeeds?

The argument of the counsel for the respondent was that other officers of the bank had opportunities equal to those of Hays for misappropriating the cash; indeed it was openly charged that they did so. In view of the wonderfully loose administration of the bank's affairs, and the negligence of the directors, there was ground for severe criticism of the various officers, and perhaps they were equally culpable with Hays; but their delinquencies could not excuse his turpitude.

It was admitted that large sums of money were taken from the bank; it was admitted that Hays was the chief manager, almost the sole manager, in fact, of the institution; he made a practical confession of his wrongdoing; the bank went to pieces in consequence of the fearful hole made in its assets during the Hays regime—and yet a jury comes in with a verdict of "not guilty"! It is paralyzing to citizens that there are such things as law, justice and punishment for crime.

It is such verdicts as these that arouse contempt for the law and its machinery, that weaken the force of the statutes, that stir up anarchy, that sap the foundations of our democracy, that embolden lawbreakers and put a premium on vice. It is such verdicts as this that create the mischievous impression that there is one law for the poor, and another for the rich. It is such verdicts as this that breed criminals and encourage the worst forms of organized rapine from which the people are suffering today.

Thank Heaven! such verdicts are few and far between! The Times is not among those who are ready to throw down the jury system because a jury now and then may do a cor-

PAYING THE PIPER.

A dispatch from Denver, under date of April 24, told of the filing in that city of suits against the Western Federation of Miners for damages in excess of $1,000,000. The plaintiffs are mining companies operating in the Cripple Creek district, and the suit is brought against the Western Federation of Miners as an organization, Charles H. Moyer, its president, William D. Hayward, secretary, and other officers. The organization, collectively, and its members individually, are charged with conspiracy to prevent the plaintiff companies from mining and shipping their product, and with having caused the beginning of a strike among employees of the plaintiffs in August, 1903. The total of damages claimed, as before stated, aggregates over $1,000,000, and the "best lawyers in the State have been retained by the plaintiffs."

It is evident, at a glance, that this suit is one of very great importance. It involves a question which must eventually be determined authoritatively in the courts before true and lasting peace can be established in the industrial world. This question is the liability or non-liability of unincorporated labor organizations for damages which they may cause by reason of strikes, broken contracts, rioting, etc. Most of the minor court decisions in this country have held the unions and their members responsible for damages thus caused, as did the celebrated Taft-Vale decision in England.

Years at Folsom—District Attorney
After Pickpocket.

SAN BERNARDINO. April 28.—Charles Miles, an Englishman who came to this country last August, was sentenced by Judge B. F. Bledsoe this afternoon to serve two years in Folsom. He pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary in the first degree, committed near Needles on the 16th inst., when he broke into a section house and took two gold watches.

Miles could not explain why he took the guns. He made no attempt to conceal them nor to sell them, but carried the weapons to Kingman, where he gave them to the Harvey eating-house, to the east.

"I had no use for them, and don't know why I took them," was the prisoner's statement to the court.

Owing to the fact that at the time of his trial he was which two weeks ago a San Joaquin State Engineer was found on him, his plea of guilty was accepted.

ARIZONA WANTS HIM.

José Rodriguez, who was sent to the County jail from Needles a few days ago, will be turned over to the Arizona authorities by the District Attorney for a burglary committed in Yavapai county. Justice of the Peace Ross discovered the Arizona charge against the Mexican, who was serving time in Needles, had two gold watches which he disposed of after being placed in jail.

Hattie of Highland, the time of President Roosevelt's visit, and who, under arrest in St. Louis, his arrest here at the time of the robbery was made by the police department, which had numerous special officers here. COACHELLA. April 28.—The men engaged in attempting to sink a well down to water below the stratum of quicksand here have succeeded in driving through the sand and have the shaft practically completed, but are delayed by inability to get an engine to pump the water. They can get down only twenty-two feet until the big pump arrives, which success is now assumed that many land-owners are making arrangements to have shafts put down fifty feet at 25 a foot, with everything furnished by the well men. This will save boring as it is said, there would be more surface water at that depth than any engine could pump. Pumping is getting to be a necessity for the artesian wells being put in.

SATINOS BELOW SEA.

Cantelope growers from Brawley have been here contracting with crate makers to make 50,000 crates for the association and 20,000 for other growers. There are 1600 acres planted to cantaloupe at Brawley this year, the first for that section.

The Coachella Valley Association has received 20,000 shocks which upon arrival were found to be one-half inch too long for making up into melon crates. Orange box makers from Highland are at work cutting the shocks to the required length, and to go with the crate making for the artesian wells being put in.

This year's cantaloupe crop will far exceed last year, and is thought to be earlier. The first four cantaloupes last year were brought in May 20 and sent to San Francisco by the San Francisco agents for the association. For many days following, the melons were shipped at the rate of a crate a day, and every melon, of that first crop, was sold at a cent a pound. The first carload was shipped on June 10 to Chicago. The car made the run from Coachella in eighty-four hours and sold within three hours at $5 to $8 a crate.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA ANA. April 28.—A monolithic mountain lion has been making serious ravages for the past week among the cattle in the Trabuco and Bell Cañon districts. On the ranch of S. T. Miller a number of young heifers and calves have been taken by the voracious animal and other owners report similar losses.

Several days ago a series of traps was set but the four-footed thief succeeded in escaping all of them and secured his usual prey from the farmer's herds. A number of small parties have gone out to track the beast, and in every instance have returned unable to find its lair.

Now the mountain ranchmen, thoroughly aroused, are preparing to organize a big hunt next week to put an end to the marauder.

Hamburger's—Daily Bulletin

Manufacturers' Samples of Boys' Superfine Clothing

Boys' $8.50 to $10.00 Suits at $4.95

Every parent will be interested in this sale, for it is the most meritorious sale of boys' clothing that we have been able to hold this season, and certainly is superior to any offerings made elsewhere, at any time. Probably the acknowledged best maker of boys' clothing in New York recently sent for our New York Buying Organization and told them he had five hundred suits—all that was left from his spring's business, and asked the price they would give. We named our price and got them. You will find the identical suits in the various boys' clothing stores of Los Angeles that handle exclusive and well-made clothing, for this manufacturer sells every first-class house in the United States. The only difference is, you will find the identical patterns, make and style at prices $7.50 to $12.50. We have had some of the same suits in our regular stock, which have sold as high as $8.50. All of them are marked down for this sale. They are in the latest juvenile Russian style, coat braided with silk all around; have leather belts, and the new deep collar. Another suit has a deep sailor collar, prettily braided, silk tie, brass buttons; straps down center; also leather belts and fancy buckles; pants are in Knickerbocker shapes; materials are fancy mixed cheviots and homespun and imported serges, in navy, brown and royal; are in sizes 2½ to 6 years. All of them go on sale as a Saturday leader at choice $4.95

Clothing for the Wage Earner

Suits Just as Good, but Lower Priced than Tailor Made

We have recently made some great purchases of men's clothing, at the right time. Anybody can go into the market after the season is over and pick up the odds and ends and discounts that have been returned to the manufacturer for imperfections or undesirability, but to go into the market at the height of the season and pick up new, desirable, stylish, well-made clothing is a feat that can only be done by the man who has the spot cash for another man's misfortunes or necessities. In a large city like New York, merchants frequently have to meet their goods for ready money in order to meet bills, notes or other indebtedness. New York Buying Organization is always a bank account from which to earn hundred thousand dollars awaiting their pleasure and opportunity, and the clothing described below is one of the fortunate purchase that they have been waiting for.
